

BUDGET SYSTEM CALLS CABINET INTO SESSION

Unusual Meeting Takes Place in Washington Wednesday

DAWES PRESIDES
Hope to Cop off Millions of Dollars in Expenses.

Washington, June 29.—One of the most unusual meetings Washington ever saw was held today in the auditorium of the interior department.

The president of the United States, all the members of his cabinet, and all the "little cabinets", composed of bureau heads and their assistants with in each department, got together around a common table so to speak and held a clinic on government ills and discussed curative remedies.

Not within the memory of the oldest government clerk in Washington and some of them go back to pre-Lincoln days—has such a meeting been held. It was like a meeting of the board of directors of a business institution.

The presiding genius at the session was Charles G. Dawes, the new director of the budget to whom President Harding has entrusted the gigantic task of putting a federal budget system into operation within the remarkably short space of 30 days. It is hoped by so doing that millions of dollars can be lopped off the cost of running the government for the next fiscal year and a wholesale reduction effected in the now staggering amount of taxes exacted from the public pocket.

Taxation estimates which have alarmed administration leaders have been produced in congress and are directly responsible for the haste which the administration is putting into the budget plans. One set of these figures which aroused wide spread comment showed that unless rigid and drastic economy is put into effect at once, every man, woman and child in the United States will theoretically contribute $60 next year to the upkeep of the federal government alone aside from the state, municipal and county taxes. With the addition of these latter the per capita tax for government in the country next year would be around $82 it has been estimated by congressmen. For the average American family of four persons this amounts to the amazing total of more than $325 for each family.

Both president Harding and Gen. Dawes were scheduled to make addresses to the gathering of bureau heads today and impress upon them the gravity of the situation and the necessity for immediate and slashing cuts in the cost of running their departments.

TWO DERAILMENTS PILE UP BOX CARS; TRAFFIC STOPPED

Cause of Wrecks at Middletown Not Made Known.

Middletown, O., June 29.—The local Baltimore and Ohio railroad yards here today is the scene of a great congestion of freight cars, some having been demolished and some reared upon the tops of other box cars like boys playing "leap frog," as the result of two freight wrecks which occurred in and near Middletown last night.

One heavy drag headed north left the rails almost opposite the depot, and before relief crews could clear up the wreckage, another freight piled up about one mile south of the first wreck. The cause of the derailments was not known, although railroad operatives announce an indefinite suspension of passenger traffic between Middletown and Cincinnati.

No casualties are known to have occurred but three trespassing passengers who were riding in one of the demolished box cars, reported that they received a severe shake up; Two of the men having been hurled through a right of way fence while asleep. The names of the men could not be learned but all claim to be from Kentucky and looking for employment.

PREMIER REFUSES

Rome, June 29.—Former premier Giolitti whose cabinet resigned on Monday today refused the request of King Victor Emmanuel that he attempt the formation of a new ministry.

VOLCANO ACTIVE

Rome, June 29.—The volcano Mount Stromboli on the Sicilian coast continues active but no victims had been reported today.

JIMMY BLANGY TO BE TURNED OVER TO STATE BOARD OF CHARITIES

Boy Who Shot Brother to Receive Care of Ohio Department

STATEMENT ISSUED
Judge Marshall Gives Decision Following Report From Columbus.

Jimmy Blangy, aged ten, will have the advantages of a good home and proper environment in an effort to give him a chance to become a useful citizen.

Juvenile Judge J. Carl Marshall so decided the future of the little fellow, who several weeks ago shot and killed his brother, Virgil, aged eight, at their home in Cedarville, following an investigation and hearing conducted by himself and Prosecuting Attorney J. Kenneth Williamson, which occupied several hours Wednesday morning.

Judge Marshall will turn the lad over to the State Board of Charities to be placed in a home where he will be under the supervision of a person well trained in welfare work, will have the opportunity of going to school and will be given a chance to show that he is not anti-social and innately vicious.

This home, while not decided upon as yet, will be in a part of the state where the influence of the tragedy he has gone through and the publicity he has received, will not affect him. "I do not believe the child was so much to blame as the parents," said Judge Marshall, in making his decision public, after the private hearing that was held. "Being of tender years, he was not directly responsible for the tragedy. All of the authorities say that a boy of his age is not responsible for such a deed. An environment of low standard, such as Jimmy had, is more responsible for his actions."

Jimmy himself was before the Judge and the Prosecutor for a long time, Wednesday morning. The boy returned Tuesday, custody of Protection Officer Joseph Watts from Columbus, where he had been under the attention of Dr. H. H. Goddard, of the State Bureau of Juvenile Research for two weeks, and the specialist gave the Judge a complete report of his findings, showing the mental capabilities of the boy. The result of this report, influenced Judge Marshall considerably, in his decision regarding disposition of the lad. A number of other witnesses were examined, including Jimmy Blangy, 10 year old boy, who shot his brother will be given a home.

Greek Civilians Killed By Turks During Battle

Important Turkish Town on Sea of Marmora Near Constantinople Wrecked by Battle Between Greeks and Turks.

London, June 29.—The important Turkish town of Ismid on the sea of Marmora, 50 miles from Constantinople was wrecked by the battle between the Greeks and the Turks, according to advices received here today from Constantinople.

The foreign office was advised that the Greek eleventh division, which had entered the town, retired before relief could arrive.

Three Turkish divisions attacked the Greeks. The city was set on fire during the fighting.

It is reported that many Greek civilians were massacred by the Turks. The situation around Ismid is said to be most perilous.

GIRL DETECTIVE NABS MAN

Akron, O., June 29.—"Sure. I beat him to it," was the comment today of Miss Anna Taylor detective at one of the large department stores here after she had captured a man and took from him five silk shirts.

Miss Taylor observed the man for a few moments. Then suddenly he left the store. Two policemen were called, but Miss Taylor, not satisfied with the speed of the minions of the law, dashed out of the store and after speeding a block at 2:04 gait, overtook the shop lifter and brought him back to the police.

"That girl can step some," commented one of the cops as he wiped beads of perspiration from his forehead.

ADMITS PRISONERS AT TIMES TREATED 'ROUGH' AT PEN

Idle House Held Responsible for Cases of Insanity.

Columbus, O., June 29.—Admission that penitentiary guards sometimes treat prisoners "rough" was made by Jos. Ebert, a pen guard, while on the witness stand before the special legislative committee probing conditions at the big prison.

Ebert explained that, in 1915, a Franklin county prisoner named Isom, died soon after he had grabbed Ebert around the neck and had tried to take Ebert's gun away from him.

Dr. O. M. Kramer, penitentiary physician, told the committee that he believed the big prison's idle house was responsible for the fact that a number of insane prisoners are transferred annually to Lima State hospital.

The legislative committee plans to visit the state's brick plant at Junction City.

LLOYD GEORGE'S PEACE PLAN IS AGAIN DELAYED

Reply of De Valera Will Hold Up Parley For Another Week.

DODGES QUESTION
Calls Conference of Leaders in Dublin to Frame Answer.

Belfast, June 29.—Sir James Craig, premier of Ulster, today declined Eamon DeValera's invitation to go to Dublin on Monday for a political conference.

DeValera's telegram asking the Ulster premier to meet him at Mansion House in Dublin at 11 o'clock Monday morning was received late Tuesday. Sir James Craig replied as follows:

"It is impossible for me to arrange any meeting. I have already accepted Premier Lloyd George's invitation to the London conference."

London, June 29.—Eamon DeValera's non committal message to Premier Lloyd George is not conducive to Irish peace, according to opinions expressed in Irish official circles today.

DeValera did not indicate whether or not he would accept the premier's invitation to a peace parley.

To illustrate that war continues in Ireland, Dublin Castle advices stated that one loyalist had been killed by Irish republicans, three houses had been burned and three ambush attacks were made this morning upon crown forces.

London, June 29.—Eamon DeValera, "president of the Irish republic," has delayed Premier Lloyd George's proposed peace conference by his non committal letter and it was believed today that the parley will not be held for a week or ten days, even if DeValera consents to come to London.

The newspaper treated DeValera's letter impartially with the exception of the Morning Post. The Morning Post accuses DeValera of temporizing. The paper added:

"We venture to predict that DeValera will refuse to come to London. He is far too busy with the work of murder and outrage to spare time for negotiations. The loyalists and the government dailies and flirts with the exterminators."

DeValera has requested several prominent leaders to meet him in Dublin for a conference before he makes reply to the premier's invitation.

A Cork dispatch reports the killing of Walter Murphy, commander of the Cork battalion of the Irish republican army at his home in Waterfall. The shooting was done by crown forces that were raiding Murphy's home. The authorities say that Murphy was responsible for the murder of five officers and a civilian. Forty five members of the Irish republican army were arrested in county Cork on Tuesday.

DECLARE STILLMAN CAUGHT IN COILS

Poughkeepsie, N. Y., June 29.—"There is no chance of a compromise. James A. Stillman has his head down and he's going straight for the stone wall."

As the hearings in the great Stillman divorce case were about to be reopened here before Referee Gleason this morning a member of Mrs. Stillman's legal staff made this statement, in answer to reports that an eleventh hour compromise was in sight.

The multi millionaire ex-banker himself was expected to testify either late today or sometime tomorrow. His side of the case will be completed before the end of the week, it was announced.

WANTS HUBBY TO TO BE CHAMP

Benton Harbor, Mich., June 29.—"If my husband can't be the best fighter in his division I have advised him to quit," Mrs. Sailor Freedman wife of the lightweight champion contender said today, announcing she would be at the ringside and see her first fight July 4 when Freedman meets Benny Leonard, title holder.

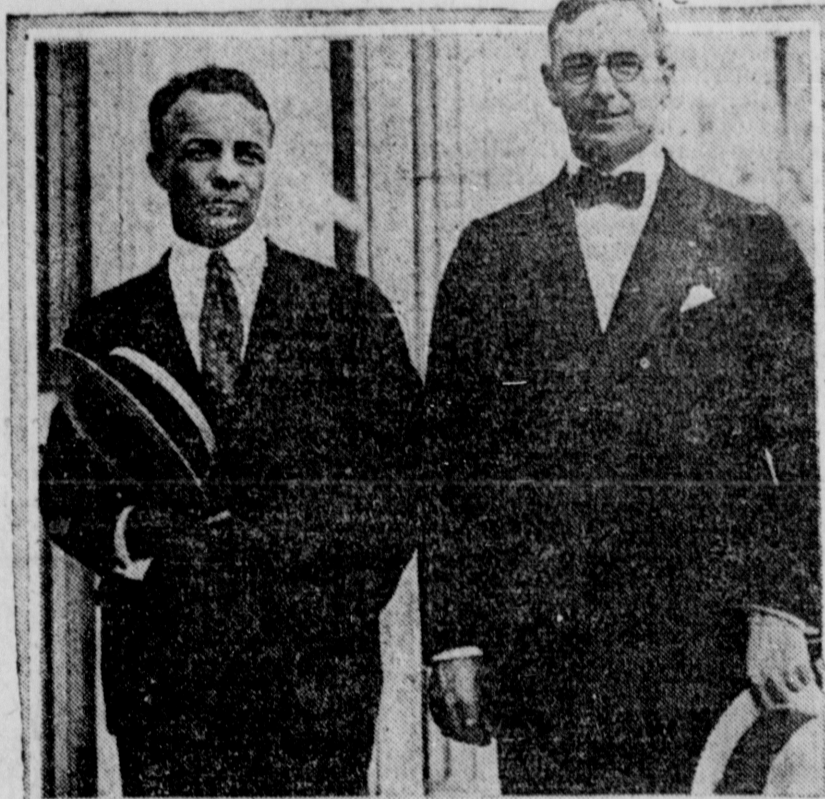

"I'm sure my husband can win the championship and I'm going to be on the spot to see him crowned," she said.

CANCELLED BONDS BURNED

Evansville, Ind., June 29.—The Sinking Fund Commissioners of Evansville today paid off $29,000 of the bonded indebtedness of the city and then burned the cancelled bonds. Mayor Benjamin Bosse has announced that $70,000 of the bonded indebtedness of the city will be paid this year.

AGREEMENTS TO STAY IN FORCE FOR TIME BEING

Temporary Advantage Gained by Workers in Decision.

ELIMINATE OVERTIME

Board to Lend Assistance to Settling Disputes.

Chicago, June 29.—Railway labor chiefs enroute or already gathered here to canvass the 12 percent wage slash which, by order of the United States railway labor board, will chop $400,000,000 from railway workers pay, were confronted today by further adverse action by the board.

In a new ruling the board eliminated overtime pay at the rate of time and a half for all work over an eight hour day.

However, in another ruling the railway workers gained a temporary advantage. The board by indefinitely extending the operation of the national agreements, which on April 14, it had directed should terminate Friday, permits pay to continue as at present until agreements between the employing roads and their men are reached regarding the wage slash. The extension of the order does not apply to those roads which have reached agreements with their workers.

In a measure the new ruling was expected to eliminate possibility of an immediate country wide strike, for by indefinitely extending the national agreements and keeping pay for an eight hour basis on present levels, an opportunity will be afforded those lines which have not reached terms with their men to continue negotiations.

By continuing the national agreement indefinitely in such cases it was pointed out the railway board could lend its assistance taking up each case separately in helping the various railway companies and their employees to reach amicable terms. Labor leaders interpreted this action as an adroit move to split the ranks of railway workers.

Just what effect the new decision will have on tomorrow's joint meeting of railway labor chieftains, was problematical to the labor leaders themselves.

The referendum votes on acceptance or rejection of the wage cut will be tabulated and announced as planned but since the national agreement in behalf of which the votes were ordered has been extended indefinitely possibility of ordering an immediate strike was considered to be passed.

Two unions, the shipcrafts and the railroad sheet metal workers have voted to reject the wage slash and these two unions alone comprise more than half of all railway workers. But at the railway labor board it was insisted that reports of this action had not influenced the board in its decision to extend the national agreements; it was explained that the extension was made necessary because a majority of the roads had not come to terms with their men and that the board had itself been too pressed with work to assist in individual cases in furthering compromise agreements.

DEMPSEY DISPLAYED GREAT RESERVE FOR LACK OF CONDITION

By JAMES J. CORBETT

New York, June 29.—Jack Dempsey's recent fight with Bill Brennan did much to bolster Georges Carpentier's confidence in his chances to win the championship. He made this plain to me the other day at Manhasset.

"I look on the Brennan fight with much satisfaction," said Carpentier. "It proved several things to me."

"Accounts of that fight show that Dempsey can be hit and by a boxer who is comparatively slow. If Brennan could hit the champion, why not I? And I believe if I can hit him he will go down. We shall see."

"Another thing. That report concerning Dempsey's condition. Did it not occur to you, Mr. Corbett, that in order to take quite a beating from Brennan in the first six rounds and then come back in the final rounds and knock his man out, Dempsey had to be in pretty good condition? I'm quite sure he was not as bad off as has been claimed."

Carpentier's angle in the Brennan-Dempsey fight is a brand new one. The bout has been picked to pieces by the critics many times, yet I've never heard anyone say Dempsey exhibited unusual staying qualities for a man out of shape. Dempsey said after the fight that he was glad he had proved to himself that he could go the distance.

The recent bout between William Meehan and Tom Gibbons also came in for comment by Georges.

"I am much interested to see where Gibbons knocked out Meehan," he volunteered. "I have seen Gibbons in one bout which he won very quickly. His victory over Meehan recalls to me the fact that Dempsey has never been able to knock Meehan out and has lost two decisions to him. Now then is this fellow such a man killer after all?"

The result of the Meehan fight is interesting in that it gives us another angle on Gibbons. I understand Gibbons will challenge the winner and stands a good chance of getting a match for Labor Day. If he does he may some day be the champion. One can never tell. Gibbons is a serious fellow who lives right and takes good care of himself.

RALPH THOMAS TO APPEAR IN CONCERT IN DAYTON, SUNDAY

Mr. Ralph Thomas, Lyric tenor, and oratorio, nephew of Miss Jennie Thomas of this city and prominent in musical circles, will appear on the concert program, July 3.

Mr. Thomas returned a few weeks ago from his studies in Europe, where he studied under famous instructors in Paris, France and Milan Italy, and is at present connected with the Dayton Conservatory of Music during the summer months as instructor. His success in Europe with his many recitals assures his being well received in music circles in this city.

Mr. Thomas graduated from the Cincinnati College of Music, and studied in New York city, under the eminent teachers. He then went to Paris, France, and studied with Berton, of the Paris National Conservatory of Music, after which he went to Milan, Italy, studying opera with Angelo Parola.

Musical magazines and press notices in both Europe and America give the highest praise to Mr. Thomas' art. The Anglo-American Paris Review had the following to say:

"The program of wide variety was truly destined to give a thorough test of the ability of Mr. Thomas, the singer. In several numbers he showed a comprehension, sensibility and delicacy which rendered the audience enthusiastic and which, added to the natural power and rare quality of his voice, predict an even greater success in the future. Mr. Thomas intends to give a concert in London, next fall, and it is expected that his success there will be a great as it was in Paris."

Appearing on the program with Mr. Thomas at the concert on Sunday will be the Cavata Trio, with Miss Dorothy Burnham of Dayton.

STORY OF MOTHER LOVE IS REVEALED

Defiance, June 29.—The story of a mother who gave away her new-born baby girl, under agreement that it shall never know its true parentage, has just been revealed here by the sister of the woman who made the sacrifice.

Mrs. William Doster is the mother. Her husband, having recently become totally blind through the effects of hot cinders having blown into his eyes while he was at work with a section gang on the Baltimore and Ohio railroad, is in the Defiance county infirmary.

She has taken in family washings to support another daughter, Leona, 10 years old. Believing that, in her poverty, she could not properly care for another child, and wishing to give it a good home, she answered the newspaper advertisement of Mrs. R. L. Holcom, 27, of Toledo. Plans were made before the child's birth, on Decoration Day. Mrs. Holcom took the baby from her birthplace at the home of Mrs. Doster's sister, Mrs. Edward Stephy, of this city, when it was only five days old.

In her desire to disassociate the infant entirely from its parentage and previous surroundings, Mrs. Holcom requested D. J. J. Reynolds to certify the baby as her own, according to the physician's story. When she found this procedure impossible, she learned from the probate court that she might have temporary custody of the infant on probation for six months prior to formal adoption.

Mrs. Doster is employed as housekeeper at the home of William Foster, farmer, living 10 miles from Defiance. She said she hoped to find employment here before fall so she can send Leona to school.

LEGISLATURE MAY DECIDE TO EFFECT SPECIAL SESSION

Columbus, O., June 29.—A special session may be held by the state legislature late in August or early in September with a view to adopting a resolution submitting at the November election a proposed taxation amendment to the state constitution.

Whether Governor Davis will call the proposed special session may be decided at a conference between the governor and members of the senate and house taxation committee to be held next month.

In view of this possibility, it is said that no taxation amendment will be initiated by tax organizations of the state which are urging that the state's taxation problem be solved as speedily as possible.

H. H. Hampton, Cleveland, representing the state organization of real estate boards, presided at a conference here officials of organizations representing substantially all property interests of Ohio. The conferees selected committee to draft taxation proposals with a view to agreeing upon one to be submitted to the special legislative session, if the solons are reconvened.

DEBTS

Most of us are brought up to be afraid of debt—as though it had teeth and would bite!

I have learned a great deal about debt. In fact, I must confess that it long ago became a fast friend of mine.

For a long time I had considerable trouble with it. It annoyed me, worried me, kept me awake nights. Then one day I thought I had stood its bossing long enough, and so I decided to waylay it and get the best of it. And I did.

Since then, debt and I have trotted along like a couple of dogs with wagging tails.

For debt is a good thing if you handle it right—a terrible thing if it handles you.

Business is conducted almost entirely through debt or in other words, through credit. And back of credit is trust. In fact, that is what the word credit means—to trust. But if trust is stretched out too far, something is sure to break somewhere. That's where the bad angle of debt comes in.

The man who goes into debt puts responsibility on his shoulders. And if he is strong enough to hold it, he gets stronger every minute.

Honest debt inspires and spurs. I refer, however, to those debts which I might term the MAJOR debts. I believe that you should pay your grocer, your doctor, your tailor and the like, very promptly. But if you want to get anywhere, go into a legitimate debt and work out of it!

Debt is an obligation that is sacred. Therefore you should use great care and not go beyond what you believe is your chance to make good.

A banker explained to me the other day that a bank preferred a good borrower to a good depositor!

And I was recently told the story of a great publisher who had made millions from the publication of a magazine. He decided to start another. He lost steadily. One day an associate came to him and told him his new magazine had lost so much that he should quit it and take his loss. "How much have we lost?" he inquired. "Over two million!" was the reply. "How much have we left?" asked the great publisher. "$300,000," replied his aide. "All right spend that," was this iron man's only comment.

It is needless to say that the new magazine is probably the most successful and powerful one now published in America.

To Save—go into debt!

HEWITT-MCFARLAND WEDDINGS SOLEMNIZED IN CEDARVILLE A pretty wedding was solemnized at the home of Mr. and Mrs. B. F. McFarland, of Cedarville, Wednesday evening, at eight o'clock, when their daughter, Miss Mary Margaret, became the bride of Mr. Ralph G. Hewitt of Selma.

The ceremony took place in the parlor of the McFarland home, where just twenty-four years ago, the mother and father of the bride took their vows.

Rev. Busler performed the ceremony beneath an arch of honeysuckle and fern. Vases of white hydrangeas decorated the rooms, and half Miss Lullie Garringer sang, "O Promise Me" followed by the Lohengrin Wedding March by Miss Thelma Smith.

The bridal procession descended the stairs, led by the officiating clergyman who was followed by the groom and his best man, Mr. Gerald Thompson.

The bridesmaids were the Misses Anna Lois Hewitt and Lois McFarland. Miss Hewitt wore a blue net over satin, Miss McFarland was daintily gowned in canary colored organdy and carried sweet peas.

Mrs. Herman McFarland as matron of honor wore blue and silver brocade satin.

The bride looked lovely in a gown of white embroidered net over pink satin, and wore a veil caught with rose buds. Her flowers were a shower of pink rosebuds.

Miss Garringer sang "Mine" after which a march was played softly while the bridal party entered the dining room. The table was attractive with crystal baskets of pink sweet peas, and pink and white candles. Pink and white were the colors carried out in the decorations.

About forty guests were served dainty refreshments, after which Mr. and Mrs. Hewitt left for their honeymoon trip. Mrs. Hewitt wore away a cream colored suit with hat to match.

Upon their return Mr. and Mrs. Hewitt will make their home for the present with the bridegroom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Hewitt of Selma where Mr. Hewitt is engaged in farming.

INDOOR PICNIC GIVEN AT HOME.

Sixty-six young people of Yellow Springs enjoyed an indoor picnic given by Miss Lois Fees and Miss Esther Hughes, at the home of Miss Hughes, on Saturday evening.

Victrola music dancing and games afforded diversion during the evening. Refreshments were served.

ATTEND DELIGHTFUL FUNCTION TUESDAY.

Mrs. S. D. Fees, Mrs. John Garlough, Mrs. C. C. Kirkpatrick, and daughter Mary and Mrs. J. W. Pawcett, of Yellow Springs, attended the delightful function given by Mrs. William Rockel, at her home in Portsmouth, Tuesday.

The affair was in the nature of a garden tea. Mrs. Rockel being assisted by her daughter, in receiving the guests, who numbered one hundred.

The guests were entertained from four in the afternoon until six Refreshing ices, and dainty cakes were served.

RECEPTION HELD FOR REV. AND MRS. TILFORD

One hundred and fifty guests were received at the Presbyterian Church, on Tuesday evening, when the congregation of that church held a reception honoring the new pastor of the church and his wife, formerly of Cincinnati.

Each room of the church presented a lovely scene, with decorations of foliage, and flowers, that were used in profusion about the walls and windows. From the entrance hall to the Sunday School room the appearance was that of a miniature forest, brought about by the use of the elaborate decorations. Tall floor lamps added to the beauty of the affair, being placed at different places about the church. Hollyhocks, hydrangeas, and other garden flowers aided in carrying out the scheme of decoration.

Receiving the guests were Rev. and Mrs. Telford and baby daughter Jean, Dr. W. A. Galloway, Mrs. Arthur Perrill, Mrs. D. D. Jones, Dr. Paul Espey and Mr. Erskine Winters.

The program of the evening was devoted to short talks of welcome given by different members of the various organizations of the church. Talks were given by Mr. John W. Prugh, Representing the Board of Deacons, Dr. A. C. Messinger, the Board of Elders, Mr. Louis Clark, Sunday School, Mrs. J. W. Prugh, the Ladies Aid Society; Miss Mae Orr, the Westminster Guild; Mr. Marcus McCallister, the Christian Endeavor, and Mrs. D. D. Jones.

the Missionary Societies. Several musical numbers were sung by Mrs. Arthur Perrill and Miss Effie Stroup.

Refreshments of ice cream, cake and punch were served during the evening.

AMERICAN LEGION DANCE POPULAR AFFAIR

The popularity of the American Legion dances has not lessened among Xenia's younger set, and about fifty couples attended the affair given at Kilkare Park on Tuesday evening.

Many out of town guests were present to swell the crowd. Music for the dancers was furnished by the park orchestra. Brownies Popular Entertainers of Dayton.

SHERIDAN WEDDING HELD

Miss Wealtha Sheridan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Sheridan of near Yellow Springs, and Mr. Benjamin Hoover, son of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Hoover, of Jackson, Ohio, were united in marriage last Sunday at high noon at the home of the bride's parents, near Yellow Springs, Rev. Andrew Plumb, of Westerville, Ohio, officiating.

The attendants were the bride's sister, Miss Olive Sheridan, as bridesmaid, and Mr. Marion Nunn, of Springfield as best man.

The bride was attired in a white beaded georgette dress, with foot-wear to match. She wore a corsage of roses. Miss Sheridan wore pink organdie.

After the ceremony an elaborate dinner was served on the beautiful Sheridan lawn. Covers were laid for the following guests, Rev. and Mrs. Andrew Plumb, of Westerville, Miss Kate Harper of Jackson, Ohio, Mrs. David Rutledge, Miss Lerie Rutledge, Mrs. Frank Hutchins, and children, Geraldine and Harold of Washington, C. H., Mr. and Mrs. John Dratt of Columbus, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Gooden and three children, Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Sheridan, Mr. James Sheridan and son Harry, of South Charleston, Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Sheridan and children, Forrest, Russell, Olive, Elise, Dwight and Pearl.

Mr. and Mrs. Hoover, left for a wedding trip to Pennsylvania. Upon their return they will be at home at 345 West Southern Avenue, Springfield, Ohio.

COMING BRIDE IS HONORED WITH SHOWER

Honoring Miss Regina Hustmyer, whose marriage to Mr. Robert Althoff, of Dayton, will take place next Tuesday morning at St. Brigid's Catholic Church, Miss Katherine Guilday entertained with a "honeymoon" at her home on South Detroit street Tuesday evening.

The Guilday home was tastefully decorated in yellow and white, with cut flowers used in profusion. Yellow balloons, representing "honeymoons" also helped carry out the color design and lent a suggestion of the theme of the affair.

Guests on arriving placed their gifts in a huge "honeymoon", which graced the center of the living room, and the honor guest, by pulling a yellow ribbon which opened the receptacle, was veritably showered with dainty gifts. In a contest titled "A trip to the candy island," Miss Janice Owens was the winner of the prize, a box of chocolates, which was presented to the bride.

A dainty two course lunch was served by Miss Guilday, the table being decorated most attractively for the occasion. The table was centered by a miniature lake, in which was a candy island. On the island, a miniature bride and groom were stationed. Yellow Ribbons ran from the center piece to the plate of each guest, and small yellow baskets filled with candy, were the favors. A salad course and an ice and cake, was served.

Ten girls were Miss Guilday's guests the young women present being Misses Regina Hustmyer, Catherine McCarran, Julia Wolf, Mary Julia Whittington, Rosemarie Farrell, Catherine Hollencamp, Janice Owens, Dorothy Zell and Miss Grace Althoff and Mrs. Ellis Holsapple, sisters of Mr. Althoff, both of Dayton.

Mrs. Althoff and Mrs. Holsapple are giving a shower at the home of Miss Althoff in Dayton Wednesday evening to which several Xenia people have received invitations. Among those to be present will be Miss Hustmyer, Miss McCarran, Miss Zell, Miss Guilday and Miss Helen Dillingham.

MANY WOMEN TO ATTEND FIGHT

New York, June 29.—Many society women members of prominent families have arranged to attend the Dempsey-Carpentier fight in Jersey City Saturday, making it the most fashionable prize fight in the history of pugilism. Among the women who have announced their intention of being at the ringside are Mrs. Nicholas Longworth (formerly Alice Roosevelt), Miss Anne Morgan, sister of J. P. Morgan; Mrs. William Laimbers; Mrs. Theodore Roosevelt, wife of the assistant secretary of the navy and many others. It is estimated that there will be from 5,000 to 10,000 women present.

FORDNEY TARIFF BILL COMPLETED

Washington, June 29.—The Fordney tariff bill was completed today. It was released by the house ways and means committee for publication tomorrow morning. The committee was in session throughout the day considering eleventh hour changes in the bill. The lumber schedule has been rewritten. There will be retained a duty of 50 cents a thousand on shingles and the president is given authority to impose duties on logs and dressed lumber when tongued and grooved equal to export duties levied by any country. The president may negotiate for reciprocal treatment between the United States and lumber exporting countries.

Styles BY LENORE

Velvet brocaded chiffon combined with plain chiffon contributes a charming gown for evening wear in the "dog days." The color is white with a floral pattern in orchid. An apron panel in back and front, and at each side a generous loop of the chiffon over a panel of brocade add interest and variety to the skirt, and the bodice is fitted on comfortably.

which may be adjusted to give the most graceful effect to the

The neckline of this frock is one that is generally approved this season, and the hat which completes the costume has a rolling brim with a crown fashioned of lace.

PATTERN NO. 196

A pattern for the above model (No. 196) can be obtained in sizes 34, 38 or 40, by sending to Lenore, 8 West 40th street, New York City, your name, address, the number of this pattern and the size required and 25 cents in postage stamps. Be sure to keep this newspaper clipping of the sketch and description of the garment to use as a working model when the pattern reaches you which will be within two weeks' time.—The Editor.

SEEK SOLUTION OF YAP QUESTION

Washington, June 29.—A solution not only to the Yap question but also the problem of Mesopotamia in which the United States has scarcely a less important interest, will be sought at the forthcoming meeting of the supreme council, it was learned here today. Unless the gate is again changed the allied premiers will meet the latter part of this week to take up a number of important questions which have been hanging fire for several months.

BULLETINS.

CHARGES CONSPIRACY

Jersey City, June 29.—Prosecutor Pierre P. Garven of Jersey City will on Friday lay before the Hudson county grand jury charges that the principals and promoters of the Dempsey-Carpentier fight are guilty of a conspiracy to violate the New Jersey boxing law and the New Jersey crimes act, it was announced today. This will be the final effort of the International Reform Bureau to prevent the contest.

ACCEPT INVITATION

Dublin, June 29.—Four unionist leaders in Ireland have accepted Eamonn DeValera's invitation to attend a conference here on Monday prior to DeValera's final acceptance or rejection of Premier Lloyd George's invitation to attend an Irish peace parley in London.

BOMBING STARTS

Washington, June 29.—The bombing of the old battleship Iowa by fleets of army, navy, and marine corps flyers got under way this morning off the Virginia coast, according to a long distance telephone message to the navy department at noon.

REPORT CLOUD BURST

Youngstown, June 29.—A near cloud burst late yesterday afternoon was the cause of considerable property damage and the injury of one man, a street car motorman, who was struck by lightning and his clothing ignited.

BOY WINS DAMAGE.

Dayton, O., June 29.—For injuries suffered in an accident several months ago, Jethroe Wilson, 13, Dayton, was today allowed a $4000 award against L. B. Liddle, Toledo. A default judgment was set aside before the trial started.

TO ABOLISH AGENT.

Washington, June 29.—The administration's plan for a sweeping reorganization of the federal prohibition system is to abolish the supervising enforcement agent who now has charge of two or three states, and to center prohibition enforcement in each state entirely in the hands of its prohibition director.

PRINCE MEETS VIRGINIANS

London, June 29.—The Prince of Wales received the Virginia delegation headed by Prof. Henry Louis Smith, President of Washington and Lee University which came to England for the presentation to the British nation of a bronze copy of Houdon's famous marble statue of George Washington. The Prince cordially welcomed the Virginians.

PAY HIGHEST RATE.

St. Clairsville, June 29.—Belmont county is said to be paying Ohio's highest rate for ice. A bill for ice for the court house here shows the rate is 80 cents per 100 pounds. High rates continue when the ice season ends, as natural gas here costs 93 cents per 1,000 cubic feet.

CLEVELAND JURIST DEAD

Cleveland, Ohio, June 29.—Judge Martin A. Foran died at his home here. He has been confined to his bed for three weeks due to the breaking of a blood vessel in his leg. He also suffered from heart disease. He had served on the Common Pleas bench for 11 years and prior to that was a Congressman from this district.

FAVOR COMMODITY FINANCING IN OHIO

Columbus, June 29.—As the result of a questionnaire, sent out by officials of the Ohio Farm Bureau Federation to thousands of Ohio farmers, it has been disclosed that farmers of the Buckeye state overwhelmingly Commodity financing, based on bonded warehouse receipts; livestock financing, based on adequate pledge of animals and feed; development of a personal rural credits system, based on proper safeguards; authority for granting the federal reserve board to so classify redemptions as to give priority to loans for basic production of all kinds; continuing the excess profits tax; prohibition of issuance of all tax free securities through a constitutional amendment; building of farm-to-market roads prior to the construction of transcontinental highways; the Great Lakes-St. Lawrence waterway, but oppose other waterway development for transportation, reclamation and power at this time; placing the park-ers under regulation by the government and vesting such regulations in the department of agriculture; truth-in-fabric legislation; legislation enabling co-operative marketing.

A bare majority opposed the proposal to increase the limit on federal land bank mortgage loans from $10,000 to $25,000. Strong opposition was registered against enactment of a general sales tax. The farmers declared that they will be able to move a materially larger amount of agricultural products if an adequate reduction is made in freight rates.

DEFENDANT ACQUITTED

Columbus, June 29.—The jury in common pleas court deliberated only 15 minutes before acquitting Edna Stuckey of a charge of grand larceny. She had been accused of stealing clothing, valued at several hundred dollars, from the residence of W. C. Miller, 1,333 North High street.

INVESTMENT SUGGESTIONS

Never invest in any security without first making a thorough investigation. In fact, don't buy securities without consulting your banker. As wise a man as John D. Rockefeller will not buy a security without having it passed on by his banker.

THE COMMERCIAL & SAVINGS BANK can be worth its weight in gold in its capacity for safeguarding your principal and to earn you a fair rate of interest.

OUR BOND DEPARTMENT will be glad to serve you in buying, selling or exchanging securities, or give you advice regarding investments without cost or obligation. If the information you seek is not now available, we will make a special investigation in your behalf. We invite you to use this service freely.

Why The Missouri Pacific Did It

The Missouri Pacific Hospital Association's board of managers adopted a rule opening the hospital to chiropractors. This gives employees of the Missouri Pacific railway the benefit of the new thing in the science of making disordered bodies efficient.

It was done against the opposition of old line physicians, but forced through because the board feels that chiropractic is new and "believing the opportunity for great service to the men through this agency is unlimited," to quote a member of the board.

The reason is that chiropractic spinal adjustments are removing the cause of disease in the head, throat, lungs, heart, stomach, kidneys and other organs of the body.

Why is the Overland Four the best low priced car on the market today?

ECONOMY! We have made four mileage tests with four different new machines—average mileage per gallon twenty-six miles. This wonderful little car is equally as economical on tires and oil.

COMFORT! Though the actual wheel base of this car is only one hundred inches, its overhanging spring suspension gives it the easy riding qualities of a large car with a one hundred and twenty inch wheel base.

APPEARANCE! The lines of the Overland Four are classy and modern. You can't find a niftier looking car at any price.

QUALITY! The material and parts that go into this car are of the very finest quality. It is now a hand assembled job throughout. Every fault found with this car during the eighteen months it has been on the market, has been absolutely corrected.

FIVE RULES FOR BUYING TIRES

1. Any of the standard makes are good tires. Select the brand you hear most about that delivers long mileage uniformly, tire after tire.
2. Don't be misled by looks. They have nothing to do with miles delivered on your car. Buy a safe practical non-skid, that prevents slipping the most. The Miller Geared-to-the-Road is now the nation's choice for big cars or small.
3. Select a tire you would buy the second, third and fourth times. Keep your service received uniform. A complete tire service on all our wheels is the modern and economical way to buy.
4. Deal with an honest merchant—one who doesn't recommend tires on the basis of discount to him. Your future patronage is worth more to the man who obtains for you the best he can buy.
5. Beware of tire sales. Remember, in the end, you don't get any more than you pay for. Getting adjustments is an expensive way for you to try and get even with the game.

LOOKS LIKE A "DEATH STRUGGLE" BETWEEN ENGLAND AND SOUTH IRELAND.

Lloyd George, Premier of England, follows King George's appeal for Irish reconciliation with what the Premier calls "a final appeal" for a joint conference between the British Government and the representatives of Northern and Southern Ireland.

He makes this, he says, in "the spirit of the King's words." "The British Government has small faith that anything will come of it. It will, however, help keep the record clear. Lloyd George may point to it as evidence that a possible chance of reconciliation was not missed.

If Eamon DeValera is much more than that figurehead the Irish claim him to be, there is a chance that something may come of it. The real power in Sinn Fein appears to be Michael Collins, head of "the Republican Army." There is nothing in the words and utterances of Collins that gives much hope of compromise of any kind.

There is something significant in the phrase "A final appeal" at Lloyd George uses. July 12 is the date when Southern Ireland is to be governed as a Crown Colony in case the Parliament does not meet and finally fails.

In the meantime, England is increasing the number of troops in Ireland. Parliamentary criticism of "military inefficiency" is being out statements that disclose rather than hint that more drastic steps are coming. Martial law for all of South Ireland, with military occupation, a general "clean-up," and the establishment of "black-house" garrison, seems close at hand.

The British Government is making less and less of an effort to keep up the fiction that the "disorders" are not a revolt and that the actions on both sides are not war. July 12 has been mentioned several times as the date when England will begin a genuine effort to put down what finally has been all but recognized as an actual rebellion in Ireland.

Men who love peace and believe in peace will hope that such a conference as Lloyd George has called will meet and that peace will come out of it.

GENERAL DAWES GREAT FACTION IN THE "PRODUCTION OF RESULTS."

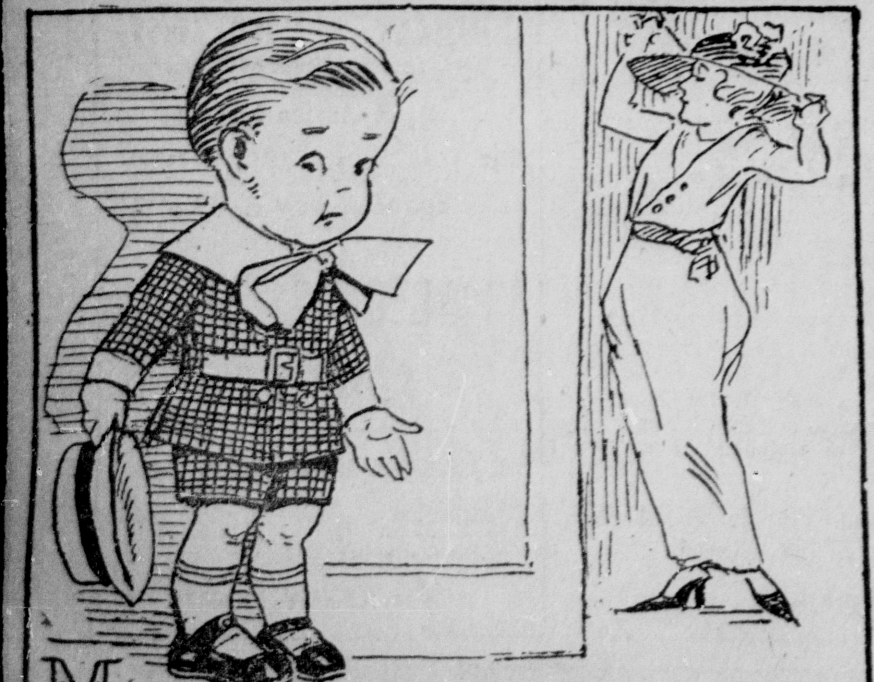

By Ex-President Taft: "It is fortunate for the country that President Harding has insisted on making General Charles Dawes Director of the new Budget Bureau and that General Dawes finally has accepted. No man is better fitted for this important place than he. As Comptroller of the Currency under President McKinley he made an enviable record and became thoroughly familiar with Government methods. Since that time he has had a long career as organizer of important business enterprises and is the founder and chief executive of a great bank and trust company. His life's work has been the study of effective economy in the production of results. His genius for straightening out confusion and introducing method into enormous Government activities was shown in France when he was one of General Pershing's most successful assistants in putting the American Expeditionary Force on a real campaign footing."

POSTMASTER GENERAL HAYS NAMES DIRECTOR FOR A WELFARE DEPARTMENT.

The newly established Welfare Department of the Postal Service will be headed by Dr. Lee Frankel, vice president of the Metropolitan Life Insurance Co. Announcement of his appointment was made Monday by Postmaster General Hays. Dr. Frankel comes to the Government service for an indefinite period without salary.

"Dr. Frankel brings to the work a thorough knowledge of similar activity and a very large experience," Mr. Hays said in discussing the appointment. "The Postoffice Department is going to have a welfare department for its 300,000 employees just as definite in its duties and certain in its functioning as any other branch of the service. If we can improve the spirit and actual working conditions of the 300,000 men and women who do this job, that in itself will be an accomplishment and it is just as certain to bring a consequent improvement in the service as tomorrow's sun."

The Board of Equalization, which has been holding sessions for the past four weeks, has finished its work, and adjourned. The principal work performed by the board was that of fixing the value of new buildings which have been erected in the various parts of the city.

Miss Gretsinger and Miss Marshall gave their Sabbath School classes of the Reformed Church a pleasant picnic yesterday. The party picnicked the Haynes Woods on the Rapid Transit Line and the occasion was greatly enjoyed.

The coming week will be a busy one for farmers. The wheat is rapidly ripening under the hot sun, and many farmers will begin the work of cutting it Monday. The yield throughout the section promises to be a good one.

The paper mills of the Columbia Straw Paper Company, were sold in this city today. The mills, six in number were located at Xenia, Newark, Massillon, Coshocton, Defiance, and Sandusky, were sold as a whole and were bought by Moses Walton of New York, for $12,000.

The iron work for the roof of the new court house is beginning to be in evidence, a large number of the heavy beams which will form the roof support having been placed in position the past week.

AN EDITORIAL ON ADVERTISING

When I was asked to write an editorial on advertising, and then agreed to do so, I became panicky. With the possible exception of personal letters I never wrote anything in my life.

I am wondering how I shall begin and whether I can say what I wish to say with all the emphasis it deserves.

Well, here goes.

I will just "think out loud," craving your indulgence.

Someone has said that at least 75 per cent. of the readers of advertisements in all kinds of publications are women.

The percentage is under rather than over the mark in my opinion.

Men read some advertisements but women read ALL—especially those appearing in their newspapers which offer merchandise that arouses their interest.

Someone has also said—a mere man most likely—that a woman can scent—or was it "sense"—a bargain at long range.

"Guiltily, as charged!"—all of us.

I make the bold claim that a woman is an excellent judge of values.

Her attention having been drawn to an article—or several articles—of special value in an advertisement, she may be depended upon to be "among those present" bright and early, the morning of the day these values are offered.

She then and there decides for herself whether the advertiser is worthy of her patronage, and so jealously guards his good name and his printed promise, that she is able to give her approval to the "specials" offered by purchases from the regular stocks.

Yes, nearly all women are excellent judges of values. That's why good advertising attracts them.

Reading advertising also makes systematic shoppers of women.

A close observer would note that a wise woman, bent on a buying expedition, has a little list in her shopping bag of advertised values, carefully culled from the advertisements. Buying goods is never a "hit-or-miss" proposition with her.

She makes a business of it, if you please, and by the aid of the advertising she reads, never fails to get her full money's worth when the shopping tour is ended.

Women, through reading advertisements constantly, also come to know advertised goods intimately, and buy them in preference to the anonymous sort.

The manufacturer and the merchant know that once the confidence of the purchaser is gained in an advertised article, they have secured not alone a buyer but a loyal booster; that the best of all advertising—the praise of a satisfied customer—will be theirs without any cost.

Their advertising thus receives an invaluable "follow-up" which no money could buy, and advertising goods of real value and service of equal value is building up an asset in good will which cannot be estimated in dollars and cents.

Women come to know these stores and for them it is enough to say of an article that "it came from so and so's."

Stores which have established their prestige through advertising guard their reputations with jealous care.

Their salesmen reflect the ideas and ideals of "the spirit of service" which patrons naturally expect to receive in such establishments.

"One Who Knows" is talking—out loud, and her advice is this—Read Advertising.

Merchants who follow the "golden rule" of business know that they will get 100 percent returns on every advertisement they place—and they are putting their most attractive store news in this newspaper because they know that it has the confidence of the sort of women they want to reach.

EYE SPECIALISTS LOCATE IN XENIA

Drs. Wilkin and Wilkin, eye specialists, who at present have offices in Greenfield, Ohio, will locate in this city and within a few days will occupy the rooms over Katz' clothing store, that have just been vacated by Findley M. Torrence, secretary of the Ohio Retail Lumber Dealers' Association. They are installing a complete plant for grinding lenses. Both are graduates of the Northern Illinois College of Optometry.

LAW OFFICES WILL BE RE-LOCATED

Workmen have already begun remodeling the rooms in the H. E. Schmidt building, in the rear of the law office of Judge Marcus Shoup, for the occupancy of Prosecuting Attorney J. Kenneth Williamson, who will move there from his present location as soon as they are completed.

Prosecutor Williamson at present occupies office in the Schmidt building with Attorney James Kyle, across the hall from the office of Judge Shoup. Through the improvement plans undertaken by the owner, H. E. Schmidt, the Prosecutor will have an office in the room formerly used by William Kelble, tailor, and the room formerly used as a consultation room by Judge Shoup, will be fitted up as a common waiting room for both attorneys.

Miss Nelle Fletcher, stenographer for Judge Shoup, is also stenographer for the Prosecutor, having been appointed to that position the first of the year. The rooms will be remodelled and redecorated and the hallway enlarged. They will be ready for occupancy about the middle of July.

William Kelble who occupied the room, which will be Prosecutor Williamson's office, has moved to a new location on the second floor of the Frazer building over the C. S. Frazer shoe store. Architect H. W. Owens, is in charge of the remodeling work.

DRAWING THE LINE.

Oh, every mortal ailment has had its grip on me, and I've known what a pail meant when taking boneset tea. In Troy I had lumbago, in Kansas I had mumps, and here in San Diego neuralgia bumps the bumps. And when in old Nebraska my liver wasn't right, and up in Athabasca my bunions were a sight. I've traveled here and yonder, that comfort I might seize, but everywhere I wander I have some new disease. In Maine I had the shingles, in Illinois the croup, and when I wrote my jingles they were not worth a whoop. And all throughout the nation the surgeons sought my door, and said, "An operation will make you hale once more. Oh, let us carve your body—we'll do the job with care—and you'll be feeling gaudy and fit to whip a bear." And friends and neighbors told me to try the surgeon's knife, but I replied, "Behold me—I'm still as large as life! And when King Death releases my soul from this worn trunk, I shall not die in pieces—I'll perish in one chunk." The surgeons still are hewing for every known disease and o'er the land they're strewing the sawed-off heads and knees; they boost their carving riot, and oft I wonder why, for invalids who try it are pretty sure to die.

SOOTHING FOOT MASSAGE
I wish very much that someone would start a fashion for wearing sandals, for nothing could be healthier for these hot summer months. If enough women had the courage to do this there would be fewer cases of corns and of aching feet and tired bodies.

Everyone knows, of course, that the feet do not get enough ventilation. In the winter they are confined in high leather shoes; in the summer the low leather shoes are not much better. Canvas shoes are healthiest because they are coolest and lightest, but even they do not have the advantage of sandals.

Since the feet suffer from lack of ventilation and from poor circulation, an excellent thing is to massage them for a few moments every night. This is particularly good if your feet swell up during the hot weather. If possible, bathe them in warm salty water; in any case, dust them with talcum powder and then massage using the fingers and thumbs of both hands. No particular massage motion is necessary; plain rubbing or a circular motion is all that is needed, since the idea is merely to stimulate the circulation of the blood.

The talcum powder is suggested merely because it is soothing and because it makes the massage a little bit easier. No foot massage is ever complete unless the ankles are also massaged. This treatment by the way, is excellent in the winter as well as in the summer, with the slight change that in the winter the feet should be bathed in hot instead of merely warm water. The treatment in this case will do away with cold feet, and will induce sleepiness, in many cases of insomnia.

B. H.—Liver marks cannot be cured by means of bleaches. Purify your blood and restore your liver to healthy action and if you cannot effect a cure yourself, go to the doctor. Flour of sulphur, made into a thick paste with table syrup, is an old time spring tonic, that will help you. The dose is a teaspoonful three times each day, for three days, then omit three days and repeat three more days. Do this for several weeks and if you have a return to the condition, repeat the treatment but do not continue under the doctor's care as you may thin the blood through excessive dosing.

JIMMY BLANGY TURNED OVER TO CHARITIES BOARD

cluding Coroner R. L. Haines, during the course of his hearing which was not concluded until twelve o'clock. Jimmy is healthy, and appears bright mentally. Authorities believe he will live down the stigma of the tragedy in which he participated, and will become a useful citizen under proper care and training, and the idea of correction rather than punishment, which has been in the mind of Judge Marshall since the affair came to light, was carried out in his decision in rendering his decision. Judge Marshall issued the following statement:

"The Juvenile law provides that a person under eighteen years of age, when charged with a felony, may be bound over to the Common Pleas Court for prosecution by the Juvenile Judge, if the Court, after using its sound judgment and discretion is of the opinion that the case justifies such action.

"To do that in this case would be an absurdity. The Juvenile Court should stand in the same relation to a juvenile offender as a physician does to a sick child. The Judge should seek to prescribe a remedy that will remove the cause and effect a cure, the same as a physician who prescribes a remedy to remove the disease and effect a cure. Therefore, this boy's case is considered as that of a juvenile offender.

"James is ten years and two months old. The report of Dr. Goddard shows that he is a very well developed boy, his fund of general information is what would be expected from a boy of his age, he is a fairly normal boy of his age, he has the desires and ideas which all boys of his age have. The literary test shows him to be retarded, and that he makes a mental age of eight years. Diagnosis, inferior mental, slightly psychopathic.

"The testimony in this case seems to point to the fact that James comes from a superstitious, illiterate and care-free family. The home life is such that the children do not know as they please and have access to anything that can be found in the house. James, although slightly retarded, is intelligent enough to be influenced by such conditions. The fact that he had a revolver in his possession is not significant except that it shows the conditions existing in the home life of the child.

"It is generally conceded by authorities that anyone of an eight-year mentality can hardly be held responsible for his behavior. Especially is it true if the home conditions and environment of the individual have been of a low type. Even if he did kill his brother when angered, which is not substantiated by the testimony, he should not be held responsible as his home conditions and environment are below the standard set by society.

"All the circumstances of the tragedy were supplied by the home life of the child, and because he is unable to appreciate the significance of the whole thing, he should not be held directly responsible, the parents probably being more to blame for the tragedy than James. The testimony really seems to point to the fact that the tragedy occurred when the mother was absent from the home, having gone to town for a supply of groceries and left the children at home playing Indian and cow-boy. James climbed upon the bed and got the pistol and went upstairs to investigate, after his brother Virgil had said there were some white object up there, and after attempting to discharge the gun two or three times and failed, he came down stairs and pointed it at his brother, and this time it was discharged, and the result was the killing of his brother.

James deserves a chance to prove that he is not innately vicious and anti-social, and the Court therefore here now commits James to the Ohio Board of State Charities to be placed in a foster home. I hope to be able to place him in this State, where this influence will not have a chance to affect him again. This will not be easy, I fear, for the reason of the character of and the wide-spread publicity given this case by certain newspapers outside of Greene county. This publicity has indeed been unfortunate for James, and may possibly cause some feeble-minded boy to attempt the same or similar thing. In this home he will be supervised by one experienced and trained in child welfare work, and here he will be in a new social group, also in new and good environment. He will be sent to day school regularly when in session, also be under the influence of the church, in short, he will have all the advantages a boy of his age should have.

"I am very sorry for the heart-broken parents, but if James makes good, which I believe he will unless he fails to develop to manhood mentally, and becomes an honor to his parents and a benefit to society, this procedure will not have been in vain.

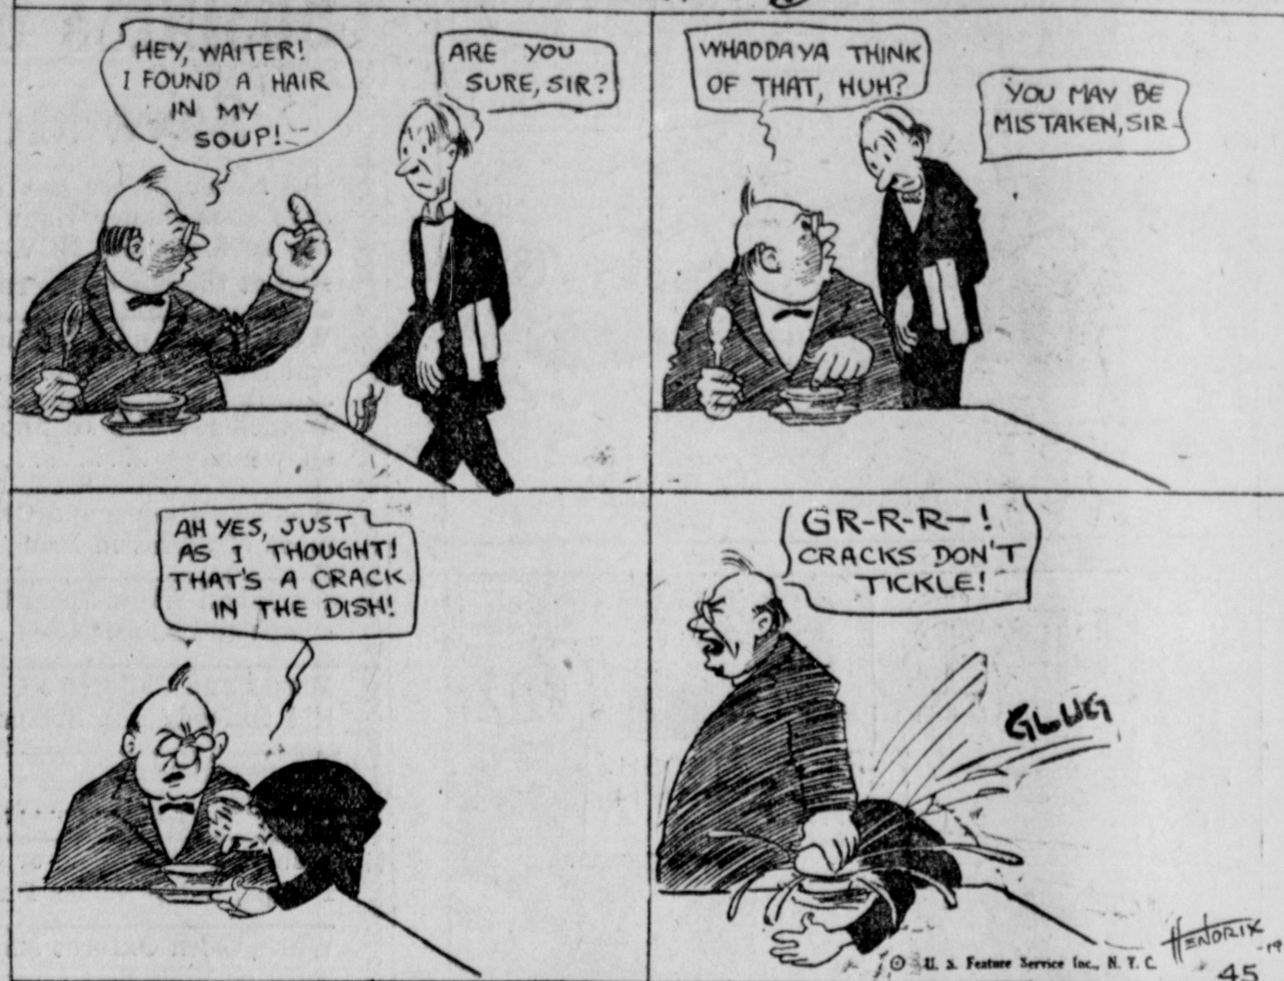

"The fact that James is going to get this chance I hope will in a small measure bring solace to the sorrowing parents.

"I hope this may be a lesson to parents who may be negligent in the care of their children, and to those who may be careless in leaving firearms and other dangerous weapons in easy reach of their children. At this time I want to impress upon any such that their supreme duty is to train up children in the way they should go. Our Father in Heaven, says, 'Train them for me.'

CHRONIC GROUCHES by Haile T. Hendrix.

U. S. ARMY OFFICER VISITS XENIA IN INTEREST OF CAMP

Lieutenant-Colonel C. F. Leonard of the U. S. Army was in Xenia Wednesday morning, as a representative of the United States Government in the interests of the training camp for civilians between the ages of 16 and 35 years, to be held at Camp Knox, Ky., July 21 to August 20.

Colonel Leonard said he wished to clear up some apprehension that exists that the applicant enlists and may be held after the camp. He stated that no one enlists and all are free at the end of the camping period. Furthermore, according to the officer, any man at the camp, may for good reason return to his home before the completion of camp if considered necessary.

Colonel Leonard furnished additional information to the effect that many officer instructors have been taken from the schools and universities that train students for the Reserve Officers Training Corps and that for reason have had much experience in training civilians throughout the year.

The officer dwelt on the great need of training now that the Army has been decreased to 150,000 men, aside from the many benefits to be derived from living four weeks in the open. There is no expense in attending camp, the government furnishing food, clothing, medical attention, shelter and railroad fare with meals enroute, or will refund to the applicant five cents for each mile from Xenia to Camp Knox instead of railroad fare and meals.

The camp, said Colonel Leonard, is similar to that held at Plattsburg, N. Y., in 1915, where public spirited citizens attended for four weeks, all expenses for food, clothing and railroad fare, being paid by them, not being furnished by the government at that time.

Colonel Leonard will be at Commission Chamber of the City Building from one o'clock until five o'clock Thursday afternoon, for the purpose of answering questions or signing up applicants. Applicants may also be enrolled at the office of Harry D. Smith, attorney, in the Citizens National Bank building.

REALM OF BOOKS

BRIEF REVIEWS OF LITERATURE RECENTLY PLACED ON THE SHELVES OF THE COUNTY LIBRARY.

"FUNDAMENTALS OF SALESMANSHIP," by Norris A. Brisco. This volume is designed for the man or woman, young or old, who is engaged in or intends to take up the business of salesmanship. It is of special interest to the salesman and saleswoman in department stores. There are chapters on judging human nature, on health, character, tact, personality, memory, etc., also chapters on how to meet a customer and his objection, the general duties of a successful salesman. The book is written from the point of view of the salesperson himself and it will prove of vast help to ambitious young men and women who are anxious to move forward to positions of responsibility in large retail business. There are chapters on the duties of the management with special reference to the sales force. The book is certain to be of value as an extbook for sales classes in many of the large department stores all over our country.

"THE PURPLE HEIGHTS" is Marie Conway Oemler's latest novel and it is rich in laughter and tears, in thrilling dramatic situations and in all those other elements that endear a story to a great public as was the author's first astonishing success, "Slippy McGee."

"THE BEST SHORT STORIES OF 1919," edited by Edward J. O'Brien. Of this collection the Philadelphia Ledger says, "Authors, editors, librarians, teachers of English, teachers of short-story writing and others find it indispensable. Many colleges have adopted the book as a regular feature of their courses in English and short-story writing."

ENDS IN DISASTER

Sistersville, June 29.—When Rev. J. L. Booth, local preacher-road contractor, attempted to "speed up" local road work his efforts met with disaster. With Ira Yoho and Clarence Thomas, he climbed aboard a motor truck and proceeded to let 'er out a bit.

The truck crushed into a pile of bricks. Thomas was pulled from the creek, 25 feet away, where he had been hurled headfirst into the mud. Yoho landed upright on a pile of bricks in the opposite direction.

ERIN THINKS NAME SUFFICIENT TO WIN BIG PRIZE FIGHT

Dublin, June 29.—Ireland is backing Jack Dempsey to beat Georges Carpentier to the last penny. If the French fighter wins there are going to be a lot of empty pockets in this country, but the universal opinion is: How can a man with the name of Dempsey lose?

In the agricultural districts some men even sold their farms and cattle to raise money to wager on the fight. For the time being Dempsey ranks with DeValera in Irish interest.

So great was the flood of Dempsey money that the book makers were inundated and closed their books, making it necessary to send wagers to England. Some bets were made at even money in the beginning but before the books closed the odds were 10 to 1 with the American on the long end.

If Dempsey wins and decides to visit Ireland, he is assured the welcome of a prince.

One hears marvelous stories of Dempsey in Ireland, especially his generosity towards the Irish cause. If all are to be believe Dempsey must have the wealth of John D. Rockefeller.

JURY DISAGREES ON SLOT MACHINE CASE

A jury composed of six men and six women, in Springfield, Tuesday, disagreed on the question of whether the mint slot machines operated in Clark county by Gustave Schneider, Columbus concessionaire, are gambling devices.

Six of the jurors were convinced the machine was within the law and six thought the defendant should be convicted. The operation of the machine was demonstrated in the court, jurors being permitted to work the devices with slugs, and the mints used in the machines were passed out to the judge and the jurors.

The jury deliberated seven hours. The defense maintained that the machines were used only to stimulate business and were not gambling devices. Schneider was indicted by the Clark county grand jury and pleaded not guilty to a charge of setting on foot and carry on a scheme of chance in the county. He will be brought to trial a second time. He formerly operated a number of machines in this city, which were eliminated by a police ban some time ago.

BELIEVE RICHARDS HAS GOOD CHANCE

Jack Lawler, the Omaha flash, who meets Blockie Richards, Dayton light-weight in a 12-round decision bout, Friday night, at Triangle Park, Dayton, has arrived in Dayton, and appears to be in fine trim.

Blockie has been working faithfully and his admirers are backing him heavily to win with a knockout. With the announcement of the bout a week ago, Lawler ruled a 7 to 5 favorite due to his decisive defeat of O'Connell in Cincinnati and his previous win over Blockie, but at the present time the betting shows that the fans figure Blockie has an excellent chance to get over a kayo.

The Miami Athletic Club officials are arranging additional seating capacity due to the tremendous demands for the pastebards, and it is anticipated that the largest crowd that ever attended a bout in Dayton, will be on hand.

DEPUTY CLERK IS HELD ON CHARGE

Charlestown, W. Va., June 29.—H. H. Henson, deputy clerk of Putnam county was arrested at his home at Winfield Monday, charged with forging county orders. He was taken before a magistrate and held under $10,000 bond for action by the grand jury of Putnam circuit court. This information was received here late yesterday. The amount which it is alleged the county has been defrauded out of is not known but according to Walter Hallanan, tax commissioner, the county has been literally looted. Commissioner Hallanan supplied the in-

NO DEMONSTRATION AS TALKATIVE ADMIRAL ARRIVES

Nearly seven hundred uniformed policemen, under three inspectors, four captains and fifty sergeants were stationed for three blocks on each side of the pier when Admiral William Snowden Sims arrived in New York on the S. S. Olympic. The Admiral, unmolested, got into an automobile and was whisked to his hotel. Seldom in New York's history has there been such an ostentatious display of police strength to greet an American citizen. As a result the spirits of the Irish sympathizers and the Admiral's friends who had planned demonstrations, were apparently so dampened that only a scattering few were in the streets leading to the dock. None got through the police lines. The above photograph of the Admiral formation on which the warrant for Henson's arrest was issued. Officers had been seeking Henson who is a son of the county clerk since last Saturday.

COLLEGE QUARTET RENDERS CONCERTS IN GREENE COUNTY

The Muskingum College quartet which is traveling this summer in the interests of Muskingum College gave a delightful musical program, Tuesday evening at the Old Town M. E. Church.

A good crowd was on hand for the concert and the audience was well pleased with the offerings. The quartet is practically spending this week in Greene County, singing in Cedarville, Jamestown and Clifton and will appear at the Second United Presbyterian Church in this city, Friday evening.

Two Xenia boys are listed in the personnel of the musical organization. They are Robert Moore, the leader, who is the second tenor and leader, who is the second tenor and the baritone and soloist. A collection is taken up at each program given by the quartet.

NEIGHBORS HOLD BELLING

Bucyrus, June 29.—Neighbors, under the leadership of Mrs. Franklin Hamlin, aged 91, gave a rousing bell-ringing before Mr. and Mrs. William Mullen, just married, started on their honeymoon automobile trip. Mrs. Mullen formerly was Miss Susan Swingley.

Physician Explains Who Should Take Nuxated Iron

Practical Advice on How To Help Build Up Great Strength, Energy and Endurance

"Lack of iron in the blood not only makes a man a physical and mental weakling, nervous, irritable, easily fatigued, but it utterly robs him of that virile force, that stamina and strength of will which are so necessary to success and power in every walk of life," says Dr. James Francis Sullivan, formerly physician of Bellevue Hospital (Outdoor Dept.), New York, and the Westchester County Hospital. "It may also transform a beautiful, sweet-tempered woman into one who is cross, nervous and irritable. I have strongly emphasized the great necessity of physicians making blood examinations of their weak, anemic, run-down patients. Thousands of persons—on year after year suffering from physical weakness and a highly nervous condition due to lack of sufficient iron in their red blood corpuscles without ever realizing the real cause of their trouble. Without iron in your blood your food merely passes through the body something like corn through an old mill with rollers so wide apart that the mill can't grind.

For want of iron you may be an old man at thirty, dull of intellect, poor in memory, nervous, irritable, and all run down, while at 50 or 60 with plenty of iron in your blood you may still be young in feeling, full of life, your whole being brimming over with vim and energy.

But be sure the iron you take is organic iron—Nuxated Iron—not metallic iron which people usually take. Organic iron—Nuxated Iron—is like the iron in your blood and like the iron in spinach, lentils and apples, while metallic iron is iron just as it comes from the action of strong acids on small pieces of iron filings and is therefore an entirely different thing from Nuxated Iron. Nuxated Iron represents organic iron in such a highly concentrated form that one dose is estimated to be approximately equivalent (on organic iron content) to eating one-half quart of spinach, one quart of green vegetables or half a dozen baked apples. It is like taking extracts of beef instead of eating pounds of meat.

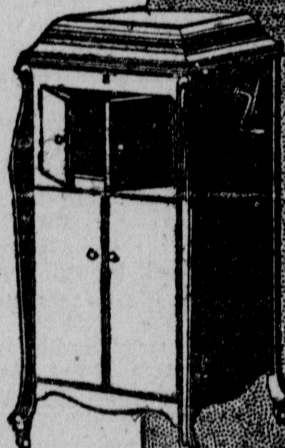

Over 4,000,000 people annually are using Nuxated Iron. It quickly helps make rich red blood, revitalizes worn-out exhausted nerves and give increased strength and energy. Your money will be refunded by the manufacturers if it does not produce satisfactory results.

For sale by all druggists.

I. O. O. F. TO START MEMBERSHIP DRIVE

Plans for a membership campaign, which will be started immediately and continued until September 1, were made by the members of the Xenia Lodge, No. 52, of the I. O. O. F. at the meeting of that lodge held at the lodge rooms, Tuesday night. Members of the lodge were divided into ten different groups, and captains were appointed for each group to direct the campaign. The leader of the group which wins the most new memberships for the lodge, will be rewarded at the end of the campaign, is the announcement of W. H. Street, recording secretary. Captains of the teams who were elected at the meeting, Tuesday night, were T. H. Bell, A. W. Haines, Frank Sheets, P. C. Banker, Volney Harness, D. E. Crow, Fred Hull, S. E. Willett, H. H. Slagle and Charles Dill. The campaign will be carried on by the local members, and no further organization will be effected. 6-29

Big Wagers Are Recorded on "Street"

New York, June 29.—Tex Rickard is a stickler for punctuality and detail. Bouts promoted by him throughout the winter at Madison Square Garden were started on the dot. Rickard insists today that the Dempsey-Carpenter battle at Jersey City Saturday will start promptly at 3 o'clock eastern daylight saving time as scheduled. Betting on the big scrap found Dempsey a 3 to 1 favorite. The first big wagers were recorded in Wall street where approximately $300,000 was put up. One prominent operator offered $60,000 to $20,000 that Dempsey will win by a knockout. This was quickly snapped up and $30,000 additional offered at the same odds. The same that Carpenter would not respond broke also placed $5,000 even to the bell in the seventh round. 6-29

OIL WELL IS SHOT NEAR UNION CITY

Union City, June 28.—Another oil well has been shot on a farm near Union City. One hundred and twenty quarts of nitro-glycerine was used. ## IT DID FINE WORK SAYS CARPENTER

Akron Man Declares the Way Tanlac Helped Him Is Nothing Short of Wonderful. "Tanlac certainly hits the nail on the head for the way it has helped me is nothing short of wonderful. It was the statement made by E. L. Corwin, 289 E. Thornton St., Akron, Ohio, well-known carpenter. "Some months ago I lost my appetite and got to where I could hardly look at anything to eat without getting sick. I seemed to get no strength from what little I did force down, for I was so weak I could hardly pick up a hammer. My kidneys bothered me a great deal and my back hurt so bad it was torture to be stooping over and straightening up. "Noticing in the papers so much about Tanlac I decided to give it a trial, and it certainly has done fine work for me. Why, I never had such an appetite before in my life, and I haven't an ache or pain of any kind left. Tanlac is the best medicine I've ever tried, and I'm only too glad to say a good word for it." Tanlac is sold in Xenia by Sayre & Hemphill and leading druggists. 6-29

CALLED FOR JULY

Columbus, June 28.—Twenty examinations are called by the state civil service commission for July 26, 27, and 28, and with the publication of the official bulletin, announcement is made that none of these positions will be effected by the reorganization of the various state departments, and also that vacancies exist and appointments will be made as soon as the eligible list is prepared. The examinations include stenographers, typists, accountants, bookkeepers, clerks, engineers, examiners penal nurses, district superintendent of state fish hatcheries, statisticians, supervisor of the boys industrial schools, field veterinarian, laboratory assistants and appraisal clerks. Because of reorganization it is expected that there will be a number of vacancies and there probably never was a better time to secure a good state position than at present. Copies of the bulletin and application blanks will be sent free upon request to the commission at Columbus. 6-29

FIGHT RETURNS TO COME BY WIRELESS

Xenia wireless operators will have an opportunity of getting the results of the Carpenter-Dempsey bout by wireless next Saturday afternoon. The William T. Hall Company of Dayton has arranged with the radio station at McCook Field, Dayton, to send out the results of the fight for the benefit of all operators in this locality. Friday night a radiophone concert will be sent out from McCook Field as a test for fifteen minutes, using a 475 meter wave length, for all radiophone stations to tune in, and thus accustom themselves to that wave length. Fight results sent out of Hoboken, it is believed, will not have the proper wave length to be picked up by local amateurs, but they can readily get the results from McCook Field. 6-29

NEW CITIZENSHIP COMMITTEE FAILS AT FIRST MEETING

The new Citizenship Committee Good Government composed of five delegates appointed from various Xenia churches which met in the commission chamber of the City Hall Tuesday night to nominate six men as candidates for city commissioner this fall, accomplished nothing beyond adjournment until next Tuesday.

An unfavorable and disappointing representation of the committee personnel was partly the cause of the adjournment. Another reason given was that the committee wished to have present at its meeting, Dr. A. M. Patterson, a member of the old citizens' committee of one hundred which formerly put a commissioner ticket in the field, and who was active in the agitation that resulted in the new committee his year.

It is said that an attempt to arouse the old citizens' committee failed which resulted in the action to put the proposition of presenting a ticket up to the Xenia Ministerial Association.

The association arranged Sunday as a "good government" Sunday, when sermons on that subject were preached in many Xenia churches, and the naked official boards of these churches to appoint five men representing their congregations on the general committee. At the meeting called for Tuesday night, however, the colored delegates responded to the call more bravely than the white delegates, as a result that there were 18 colored delegates present and only nine representing white denominations.

The Rev. Albert Reed, pastor of the First Baptist Church, and president of the Ministerial Association, occupied the position of chairman, and deplored the apparent general lethargy that seems to exist regarding the question of candidates for the positions, despite the importance of the offices to be filled. "It is a sad state of affairs," said the Rev. Reed, "when not enough people are present at a meeting of this kind to hold a meeting."

At the suggestion of the Rev. Reed to adjourn until a later date, William S. Rogers, colored delegate, moved that the meeting be postponed until next Tuesday evening, which was agreed upon by vote and the meeting was adjourned.

BATHERS DISCARD CONVENTIONAL DRESS

Washington C. H., June 29. — Chicago, with its nude bathers, has nothing on Washington C. H., according to a police order just issued here.

Naughty bathers are defying the rules of convention and taking a plunge in the cool waters of Paint creek, sans clothes or even the modest protection of the modern bathing suit, yet within plain view of the passersby on the roadway.

The action of the bathers in thus issuing a defy to the rules of society, and following in the footsteps of their ultra-modern brethren and sisters from "The Loo," in doing a Lady Godiva from the creek bank, with considerable abandon as far as attire is concerned, resulted in a complaint to Police and a warning of charges in Mayor's court.

GYPSIES DRAW FINE IN LOCAL COURT

The Bimbo Brothers drew a $50 fine and the costs from Magistrate J. E. Jones, Monday afternoon.

The Bimbo Brothers, are not a vaudeville team, but are five brothers with the peculiar surname of Bimbo and with front names, too difficult to attempt to spell.

They are five leaders of a gypsy band and were arrested by Sheriff Funderburg Monday for camping along the highway. They paid their fines and costs and were ordered out of the county.

MAYFIELD TRAGEDY REMAINS UNSOLVED

Mayfield, Ky., June 28. — Forty eight hours investigation into the slaying and cremation of eleven persons in a farmhouse near Mayfield, has failed to reveal any tangible clew.

With the theory that the murder of the two families was committed by Ernest Lawrence, who perished together with his family and that of Otis Drew, was the only one accepted as at all plausible, the tragedy may remain an unsolved mystery. Even this theory was shaken when Dr. Hargrove, physician for the Lawrence family, declared that if Lawrence had ever suffered from pains in the head, he had not made this known to his doctor.

HENS ADOPT NEW EFFICIENCY METHOD FOR PRODUCTION

Washington C. H., June 29. — John Green, has a flock of hens that are qualifying as efficiency experts.

It seems, Green's hens, spurred on no doubt by the cry of the age for efficiency and the cry of the house wife for lowering prices have hit upon an extra size egg, as their contribution to a more economic standard.

Eggs of extra size and double-yolk are not infrequent in the Green hen house. The latest entry in the big-egg contest, however, is a prize winner. It measures 6 3/4 inches around, with a circumference the long way of 8 3/4 inches and weighed five ounces. The egg was the size of three ordinary hen eggs.

SEASONABLE CANNING RECIPES

June Peas are the ones to can. They should be freshly picked and tender. Shell them, grade for size, and place them in cheese-cloth; blanch (that is, dip the cheese-cloth) in boiling water for 5 minutes, then "cold dip" (that is, plunge it into cold water for a second) and pack the peas into hot, sterilized jars; add 1 teaspoon of salt to each quart size jar, and fill to within 1-2 inch of top with boiling water. Dip rubbers into hot water and place them on the jars, put on sterilized glass tops and put the top wire over the glass cap but do not press down the side bail—or, with the Mason jar, screw the top on with the thumb and little finger so that it will not be screwed on very tightly.

Now place the jars on the wire rack in your wash-boiler canner, in boiling water to cover to the depth of two inches and let "sterilize" in this way, with the water boiling constantly—do not begin to count till the water boils again after the jars have been placed on the rack—for three hours. Be careful not to break the peas while packing them in the jars, as this will give the jar a cloudy appearance.

To Can Sour Cherries. Remove stems, wash in cold water, grade for size and pit. Then pack them into hot, sterilized jars and fill to within 1-2 inch of top with a boiling-hot medium-thin sirup made by boiling 3 quarts of sugar and 2 quarts of water together for 5 minutes; adjust rubbers and covers, partially seal, and sterilize under boiling water for 16 minutes for quart-size jars. Then completely seal, invert to test for leaks, cool and store.

To Can Sweet Cherries. Follow the above directions exactly, but use a boiling hot thin sirup instead of medium thin called for above. (To make the thin sirup boil 3 quarts of sugar and 2 quarts of water together for exactly 1 minute not beginning to count until it is actually boiling.)

To Preserve Cherries. Wash and pit them (either sweet or sour cherries) and put them in alternate layers in the preserving kettle with three-quarters their weight in granulated sugar. Let them stand in this way overnight, to draw out their juices. In the morning simmer gently until the cherries are tender, then pour them into hot, sterilized glass jars, adjust rubbers, put on covers, partially sealing and sterilize for 10 minutes in your wash-boiler canner. Then completely seal. The First String Beans are also the right ones to can. Wash, grade for size, removing strings and place in a large piece of cheese-cloth; blanch in boiling water 5 minutes for the smallest, tenderest ones and almost 10 minutes for the larger and tougher (although none should be really tough and old.) Then cold-dip, pack into hot, sterilized jars, adding 1 teaspoon of salt to the quart-size jars (add 1-2 teaspoon of salt to the pint-size) and fill to within 1-2 inch of top with boiling water. Adjust rubbers and covers and partially seal, sterilize under boiling water for two hours, remove and completely seal and invert for leaks. In packing them you may either leave them whole, or cut them across. If left whole, an easy way to pack is by holding the jar in the left hand and laying the beans in place; this gives an even, uniform pack, and the last beans may be pushed into the centre to make a closer pack and keep the outside row, next the glass, even.

To Can Lima Beans, simply follow above directions for string beans—as periods of blanching and sterilization are identical.

THE "HEAL-ALL" OF THE INDIANS

There is an herb which grows wild on our Western Plains known as "Manzanita" and to which the Indians attribute wonderful curative and healing virtue.

There is no question but that nature has bountifully provided in the roots and herbs of the field a remedy for many of the ills to which human flesh is heir. This is demonstrated by the wonderful success of that root and herb medicine, Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, which for more than forty years has been relieving women of America from some of the worst forms of female ills. It will certainly pay any woman who so suffers to try it.

ANOTHER SORROW ... CHAPTER 80.

"You go up to bed early and leave me with Keith," Mother said after dinner on the day before we were to go back to town. Keith had come down that morning.

I did as she told me, and although I remained awake for hours—it seemed—Keith had not come up when I fell asleep. He looked tired in the morning, and there were dark shadows under his eyes. But I said nothing. I would wait to hear what Mother had to say.

Mother also looked tired. I imagined neither had slept much. Anxiously I waited until Keith left for the factory.

"I fear I have alienated Keith and to no purpose," mother remarked in reply to my question. "He told me, as he did before, that he had given Margaret his promise and that he never would break it, that he would live with her as long as she wanted him. He also said, dear, that you never tried to get along with Margaret—that you resented her love for him."

And his for her! It isn't natural that a man should always put his sister, her feelings, before his wife. I do resent it, mother—that and all the other things I told you about. We would be so happy—Keith baby and I if we could be by ourselves. Slow tears fell down my cheeks. Mother had failed.

"Don't be discouraged, dear, something may happen to change him. I will talk to Margaret. I haven't much hope it will do any good, but I will see if I can get her to release him from his promise."

"In the stories it is always the mother-in-law that makes the son's wife unhappy," I tried to joke so that I would not cry. "But I never knew that a sister-in-law could be worse than any story I ever read about a mother-in-law. If only I could stay with you!"

"Then a mother-in-law has no terrors for you?" she smiled. "Not a single teeny-weeny little terror."

I went home feeling utterly discouraged. Keith said nothing to me about his talk with his mother. I had no way of knowing if she had told him I had asked her to try and persuade him to give me a home of my own. He was very cool when with me. He also went out every night when we would have been alone had he remained at home. "He is trying to punish me for complaining," I said to myself. Then Mother Sanderson passed away, I was heart-broken. I dearly loved the old lady; and her passing left me terribly alone. I now had no one to whom I could go, no place to visit where Margaret was not with me. Keith grieved for his mother openly, but if Margaret felt her loss she did not show it. "She is hard as nails," I told Erma Longstreet, then I said: "If it wasn't for you, Erma, I think I should go mad. You are the only person who knows and sympathizes with me. Everyone seems to think it so wonderful to have so nice a home as I have and no care. Why I'd rather scrub the floors and have a place just belonging to me than to live the way I do."

We were again in mourning Margaret, without even speaking to me, had made an appointment with Keith, and they had gone down in the country and rented a place for the summer. The house was much smaller than our town house, fewer rooms, so I would not have as much privacy as I had in town. When I objected on this score Margaret had said with a sneer:

"You think you must be humored because mother humored you." Mrs. Sanderson had left me $5,000 in her will. Margaret had made an awful time about it, as it was almost as much as she received. Mother Sanderson had left Gloria, Irene, and June each $2,000. Her estate was not nearly as large as Margaret had believed. Keith was left the factory and the business, but times were bad, and to make it worth while he had to give it close attention. I hoped he would go down to Hillsdale to live, but he sent a manager down, and then went himself once a week. I was happy over my legacy, not only because of the money but because it showed mother's love for me. I deposited it in the bank in spite of Keith's offer to invest it for me.

"Perhaps later," I told him, "but I want to feel it is mine for a little while. If it is in the bank I know I can get it, that it belongs to me. If you invest it I shan't feel that way."

Keith laughed and said: "All right But that's a miser's feeling."

I laughed with him (but did not tell him that the money had made me feel that if things grew unbearable it meant the way to get away—if it was left in the bank. And from the day the bank book, my first, was placed in my hands I did not feel so helpless.

ARMLESS MAN DRIVES HIS OWN AUTOMOBILE

Colby Turner, the "armless wonder" race horse driver, conquered another mode of transportation.

The well-known race horse trainer and driver, who had his stable at the Fairgrounds here for several weeks is now driving a Ford.

By planting his arms between the sprockets of the steering wheel, the race horse driver accomplishes the same steering advantages to the Ford as he does to a racehorse by wrapping the lines around his arms, and he is able to control the motive power with his feet.

To conquer the motor is just another achievement of this well-known driver, who despite the fact that both arms are off at the elbow does not hesitate at anything and has become so accomplished in spite of his handicap that he does not seem to be seriously impeded by his affliction.

THE UNIVERSAL CAR

ANNOUNCEMENT

Mr. Edsel B. Ford, President of the Ford Motor Company, gives out the following statement, regarding reduction in prices.

In part he says: "The big reductions last fall were made in anticipation of low materials costs which we are now getting the benefit of, and this fact together with increased manufacturing efficiency and the unprecedented demand for Ford cars, particularly during the past three months permitting maximum production, have made the price reduction of two weeks ago possible."

"The Fordson tractor is still being sold at less than the cost to produce, on account of the recent big price reductions, and it is impossible, therefore, to make any further cut in the price of the tractor."

We will gladly advise you concerning the delivery of a Fordson tractor or the particular type of car in which you are interested. Just phone us or drop us a card.
